St. James's, Dec. 31.

THE King of Spain arrived at Spithead on the 26th Instant in the afternoon, and had all possible Honours paid him both from the Fleet and the Town. The next day the Duke of Somerset, Master of the Horse, waited on his Majesty on Shipboard, with a Letter and a Compliment from the Queen, acquainting him, That She was come to Windsor, in order to receive the Visit that his Majesty had desired to make to Her: The next night he lay at Petworth, whither his Royal Highness was come to meet him. The 29th, about 7 in the evening, the King of Spain arrived at Windsor; The Duke of Northumberland Constable of Windsor Castle, the Duke of St. Albans, Captain of the Band of Pensioners, and the Marquess of Hartington, Captain of the Yeomen of the Guard, received him at his alighting out of the Coach, and the Earl of Jersey, Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's Houshold, lighted him to the Stair-head, where the Queen received him: And after he had made his Compliment to Her Majesty, acknowledging his great Obligations to Her for Her generous Protection and Assistance, he led Her Majesty into Her Bed-Chamber, and after a short stay there, his Royal Highness conducted his Catholick Majesty to the Apartment prepared for him. He Supped that night with the Queen, who gave his Majesty the Right Hand at Table, (which he with great Difficulty admitted) the Prince sitting at the end of the Table on the Queen's Side. The next day, his Majesty having notice that the Queen was coming to make him a Visit, he met Her at Her Drawing-Room Door, endeavouring to have prevented Her, but Her Majesty went on to his Apartment, from whence he led Her Majesty to Dinner. The afternoon was spent in Entertainments of Musick, and other Diversions. After Supper he would not be satisfied till, after great Compliments, he had prevailed with the Dutchess of Marlborough to give him the Napkin, which he held to Her Majesty when She Washed. Supper being over, he led Her Majesty to Her Bed-Chamber, where, after some stay, he took his Leave of Her, resolving to depart next morning, which he did accordingly, and his Royal Highness attended him to the Coach-side, the King not suffering him to go any further, by reason of his Indisposition. His Majesty went to Petworth this evening, designing to be on Shipboard at Spithead to morrow, to which Place the Duke of Somerset was commanded by Her Majesty to attend him.

Turin, Dec. 17. N. S. The new Levies, and all the other Preparations for carrying on the War against France and Spain, are continued here with the utmost Diligence and Application, and with very good Success. The Duke of Savoy has lately viewed the Fortifications and the Arsenal of this Place, and has ordered several Pieces of Cannon to be sent to Chieri, for the use of that Garison. Two Persons are sent from hence to Genoa, to borrow a considerable Sum of Money for his Royal Highness. The Commonalty of this City have presented to his Royal Highness a Free Gift of 150000 Livres, with Promise of the like Sum at the opening of the Campaign.

Dantzick, Dec. 21. Two Men of War and 10 Transport Ships, being part of the Swedish Squadron which lately sailed from our Road with the Prisoners, the Cannon and other things which the Swedes have taken from the Poles and Saxons, are returned hither, having been separated from the rest in the late great Storm, and it is believed several of the other Ships of this Squadron have been cast away. Our Magistrates have given Orders for their Guards to be doubled, and are making the necessary Dispositions for their Security: They have also directed all Housekeepers to give an Account of all Strangers who are lodged in their Houses. They write from Warsaw, that Conferences will shortly be held there between the King of Sweden's Commissioners and the Chief of the Confederated Nobility of Poland and Prussia.

Vienna, Dec. 22. The Preparations for suppressing the Rebellion in Hungary are carried on with all possible diligence. Several Regiments of Danish and other Regular Troops are marching from this Dutchy and from Tirol to Presbourg, and the Militia, as well as a considerable Body of Rascians, are also drawing together to be employed in that Service. The Nobility of Hungary have on this Occasion given all possible Assurances of their Zeal for the Emperor's Service, and several of them have obtained Leave to raise some Independent Companies, as well to annoy the Rebels, as to protect their own Estates from their Excursions. It is said, the Rebels, by the Means of some Correspondence they had in the Towns of Great Waradin and Clausemberg, had formed a Design of surprising those two Places, but that it was happily discovered, and those Persons who corresponded with them are secured.

Bern, Dec. 26. N. S. The Deputies of this Canton, and of Fribourg, who were sent to the Marshal de Tesse, to desire he would forbear Hostilities in Savoy, are returned home. That Marshal being departed from Chamberry before their Arrival there, they waited on the Duke de la Feuillade, who has the chief Command of the French Forces on that side in his room. He received them with great Civility, and told them, He would not comply with their Desires without particular Orders, but that he would send an Express to Court with an Account thereof, and would follow the Directions he should receive from thence. The French have made a second Attempt upon the Town of Alba, but without Success, the Duke of Savoy having taken effectual Measures to prevent their Designs.

Falmouth,

Falmouth, Dec. 27. Yesterday came in here the St. Jacob of Copenhagen, bound home with Wine from Bourdeaux, which Place she left the 9th Instant; and the Master says, they did not feel the late Tempest there: He met with a French Privateer of 16 Guns about a League off this Place.

Plimouth, Dec. 28. Her Majesty's Ship the Montague came into this Port yesterday from Spithead, and under her Convoy the Mary, Gerard Gerardson Master, and the Abigail, Peter Prince Master, both of Rotterdam, and bound to Dublin; the Friendship of Ramsgate, Robert Tickner Master, from Archangel, laden with Hemp for the Dock; the Richard and John of Southampton, John Stephens Master, and the Rebecca of this Place, Thomas Dewstoe Master, both from London, with Pitch, &c. for the Dock; the Orange-Flower of Chester, Stephen Branscomb Master, Homeward bound from Rotterdam; the Sarah and Lidia of London, William Smith Master, bound to Dublin; and 5 Vessels from the Isle of Wight, bound to Falmouth. Her Majesty's Ship the Leopard sailed hence this evening to the Eastward.

Chichester, Dec. 29. On Tuesday the 28th Instant his Majesty the King of Spain, attended by their Graces the Dukes of Somerset and Marlborough, with other Persons of Quality, passed through this Place, where he was received by the Mayor and Corporation in their Formalities, accompanied by Captain Miller and Mr. Elson, our Representatives, with many other Gentlemen of this City. Upon his Arrival Captain Miller made a Speech to his Majesty, on behalf of the City, congratulating him on his safe Arrival, and happy Accession to the Crown of Spain, and expressing their Joy at the Honour done them by his Presence here, and their hearty Wishes for his happy Success in his present Expedition. The Streets of this City were lined on both sides with a very fine Company of Gentlemen Voluntiers in Scarlet, commanded by Captain Vavasor, and great Rejoycings were made by the whole City, with repeated Huzza's and Acclamations of Joy as he passed through, ringing of Bells, Bonfires, &c. After this Ceremony was ended, Captain Vavasor took the Gentlemen Voluntiers and entertained them at his House with Wine to drink the Queen's Health, and Captain Miller gave a noble Treat at his House to the Mayor and Corporation, and concluded the Night in drinking Her Majesty's Health, and good Success to his Majesty the King of Spain.

St. James's, Dec. 31. Her Majesty and his Royal Highness returned hither this day from Windsor.

St. James's, Jan. 2. The States General having, by their Envoy Extraordinary at this Court, represented to the Queen, That the coming of the Duke of Marlborough to the Hague might now be of great Advantage to the Common Cause, by concerting there with them the Measures proper to be taken in this Juncture; and having therefore prayed Her Majesty to give his Grace Leave to pass the Sea for a few days; Her Majesty has been pleased to direct his Grace to go accordingly to the Hague for that purpose; and after a short stay to return. In pursuance whereof his Grace will be going hence with the first fair Wind.

The Dutch Mails of Tuesday and Friday last are not yet come in.
